Parkersburg, June 8.—Nonintoxicating cider and fruit juices may be manufactured by any person without the necessity of obtaining permit or giving bond, provided they are used exclusively in the home. When so used, the phrase "nonintoxicating" is held to mean nonintoxicating in fact and not necessarily less than one-half of one percent of alcohol. This is the substance of a ruling of the Federal Prohibition Commissioner made public here today by Federal Prohibition Director Charles Lively.

Older, and other fruit juices may be sold so long as they contain less than one-half of one percent of alcohol, but the purchaser cannot use or possess the same after they contain more than one-half of one percent of alcohol. Cider may be allowed to turn to vinegar, which may be used by the owner in his own home or sold to any person who may desire to purchase it. However, the owner must not under any circumstances add sugar or other fermentable substances for the purpose of increasing the alcoholic content, as this practice is held to constitute the production of a mash fit for distillation.

H. F. Arbogast, of Marvin Chapel, reports dogs killing sheep in his neighborhood. W. W. Ryder having had seven or eight sheep killed or torn.

William Hoover and Miss Otis Sue Buzzard were married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Foley Morrison, June 14, 1920. Rev. M. H. Ramsey, officiating minister. Their many friends wish them much happiness.

Twenty-three pies for $125 was the record at the pie supper on Elk a few weeks ago. The boys' and girls' farm club gave the supper to raise money to send members to Morgantown.

The Royal Drug Stores, Inc. will open their third drug store at Bayard in a short time. W. B. Lengo, who spent some time at the Marlinton store, will be manager. The chain of stores will embrace Marlinton, Renick and Bayard.

MISS MARY FREEMAN WEDS—DR. E. W. PRICE

Miss Mary Tutt Freeman and Dr. Emmett William Price were quietly married in the study of the officiating minister, Dr. Claude E. Hill, pastor of the First Christian Church, Thursday afternoon, June 3rd at 3:00 o'clock. The only attendants were Miss Rachel McAllister and Mr. Hugh Milton of College Station, Texas. Dr. Hill used the full ring ceremony.

The study at the church had been adorned with flowers for the occasion. The bride wore a blue embroidered tricotine coat suit, with hat, shoes, and gloves of dark brown. Her corsage bouquet was of pink roses and sweetpeas. The wedding had been kept quiet until this time because it was moved up two days earlier than planned on account of the going away of Dr. Hill from the city.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Flora Freeman, of 302 West Fifth Street, and received her education in the local schools.

Dr. Price is an instructor in the A and M College at College Station, Texas. The romance dates back to the time when he was in camp at Fort Ogelthorpe.

Dr. and Mrs. Price left for Marlinton, W. Va., where they will visit the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Mary Price for two weeks, and will then go to Washington, Philadelphia and Atlantic City, and return by way of Chattanooga enroute to Texas.

The bride has been honored with quite a number of social events and many handsome presents.—Chattanooga Times.

HOME NURSING CLASSES

Much interest is being shown in the classes in home nursing, which are to be given under the auspices of the Pocahontas County Chapter.

To further universal health, education and protection, the Red Cross is urging the extension of its course of Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick, and believes that this instruction should be made available to every woman and girl in the country, that it may be able to care for minor ailments and emergencies occurring in every household.

This is the Nation's effort (through the Red Cross) to make our people healthier and stronger citizens.

Once people had large families. Now with few exceptions, they have very small ones, therefore it is necessary to conserve the small number.

During the draft fully one-third of the men were rejected on account of physical defects. A large proportion of which might have been remedied had their mothers been equipped years ago with the knowledge that this course gives.

Opportunity does not always knock at one's door, therefore, embrace it when it does.

Every woman and girl should take advantage of these classes, and learn the latest and best means of preventing disease, and caring for the sick. There is no woman in our community who could not learn many valuable things no matter what her age or experience.

Don't forget: enroll now in order that the committee from the chapter may plan for the best results.

Information regarding date of opening of classes may be obtained from:

Mrs. E. M. Richardson and Miss Nelle Yeager, Marlinton, W. Va.

MARKETING 1920 WOOL CLIP OF W. VA.
Through the activities of the recently organized Sheep and Wool Growers' Association of West Virginia, contract and satisfactory arrangement for handling West Virginia wool clip of 1920 has been made with Horkheimer Brothers of Wheeling, West Virginia. This Company will handle all wool assembled in large lots in communities on a five percent basis. This charge covers storage at the warehouse, for six months, grading, packing and marketing. In other words this Company charges five percent commission for handling and selling all wool received by them and will market the wool at the proper time to net the grower the best price. This is the same contract under which Horkheimer Brothers handles the Ohio wool and is a very liberal contract. This Company furnishes new bags for each community at the rate of one dollar per bag and credit is given for each bag returned. Warehouse receipts are given and cash advances made on wool before it is put on the market. All wool should be assembled by co-operative plan in each community. Some one should take charge of the combined lots of wool and give a receipt to the grower for the number of pounds of wool delivered to him. Each fleece should be tied separately with paper or cotton twine. It is preferred to use paper twine may be bought from the Cincinnati Paper and Garbage Company of Cincinnati, Ohio. Each bag must have the name and address of the owner of the wool. All inquiries concerning the marketing of wool should be addressed to W. H. Somers, Chief Bureau of Markets, Berkeley Springs, West Virginia.

We understand that the Marlinton Electric Company will take over the business of the Delco-Lights Products, Inc., of Marlinton. Dr. G. McClure, the Delco-Light man, to be associated with the company. This will take care of the rapidly growing business Mr. McClure has built up, as the company is prepared to handle the installation problem, and thus give Mr. McClure an opportunity to devote his time to the selling end.

Dr. Charles B. Marshall graduated eighth in a class of ninety-five at the University of Maryland and College of Physicians and Surgeons of Baltimore. Many friends in Marlinton will remember Dr. Marshall as he attended high school here for two years.

Rev. M. H. Ramsey will start a series of meetings at Mary's Chapel on Elk Sunday night. He has secured the services of Rev. G. D. Sampson, who held such a successful meeting at Edray last fall. Mr. Sampson will preach at Edray on Sunday morning at eleven o'clock.

The Modern Woodmen recently paid $3000 insurance on the life of the late Uriah Heverer. During the month of May this fraternity settled $38 death claims, the total amounting to $1,453,113.

The annual memorial service of the Moose Lodge will be held in the Methodist Church next Sunday afternoon at three o'clock. The sermon will be preached by Dr. J. H. Light.

Cards have been received announcing the marriage of Miss Mary Goodloe to Page D. Nelson at Williamson, W. Va., June 9, 1920. The bride will be remembered in Marlinton, having visited her cousin, Mrs. A. C. Echar.

P. L. CLARK, DEAD

Preston L. Clark, one of the prominent citizens of Pocahontas County, died very suddenly and unexpectedly at his home near Hillsboro, Saturday, June 12, 1920. He had been busy about his premises, and fell dead in his yard. He was paralyzed. For years he had been in failing health. His age was 76 years; He was the last member of the family of the late Sheldon Clark, who came to Pocahontas from Connecticut about one hundred years ago. His mother's maiden name was Lightner. Burial at the family grave yard on Tuesday afternoon, the services being conducted by Rev. J. C. Johnson, of the Presbyterian Church, of which Mr. Clark had been a life long member. Thus we note the passing of a truly upright, honest man.

Mr. Clark is survived by his wife, who was a Miss Livesay, of Greenbrier County, and their children, Mrs. Rachel Beard, of Marlinton; Mrs. Kelley, of Richmond; Mrs. Lou McNulty, of Hillsboro; Lee Clark, of Florida; Miss Myrtle and Norval, at home.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

Memorial Service for the Modern Woodman and Royal Neighbor Lodge was held at the Swago Church, Buckeye, June 16th. Rev. K. D. Swecker had charge of the service. First on programme, Hymn, "Come Thou Almighty King."

Neighbor Swecker did not take any text in particular, but after reading a part of the 10th Chapter of Luke, made a "most excellent" talk on "Man's value to his fellowman." In this interesting lesson brought to us as a body of United Neighbors. Mr. Swecker pointed out for an example, how we as Christians could keep this from being such a cold word. "This is a cold old world," and do we do anything to alleviate or brighten the way. Could we not give them a kind word, or may be a smile? Let us as a Society emulate the example of the Christ like Spirit, that neighbor Swecker brought to us in words so plain on our annual Memorial day, of June 6, 1920.

After second hymn, "Help Somebody today," Mr. Ira Brill was called upon to tell the people just why we meet on these occasions. Mr. Brill responded with a very brief talk, yet very interesting to explain the solemnity of the occasion. After third hymn, "Blest be the tie that binds," we received the benediction and went to our many homes glad that we were privileged to meet with the good people of the Swago community.

Alliance, Ohio, June 13.—Miss Ethel Loury, eldest daughter, of Mr. and Mrs. John Loury, became the bride of William Kelley. The wedding took place at the Methodist parsonage in Canton. The ring ceremony was used. The groom is a prosperous young man, employed at Transive & Williams shop. The bride is a very fine young lady, loved by all who know her. All their friends wish them a long and happy life.

Circuit Court is still in session, but will probably adjourn today or tomorrow. Carter, Cam McLaughlin, Allen Blackhurst, Sherman McCarty, J. R. Eubank, S. P. Landis, Lee Moore, Moody McNeil, W. J. Yeager, Moody Moore.
